HeartCode BLS codes can be requested through your unit leaders and currently offered for re-certifications only.

Initial BLS HeartCode can be obtained by the employee through the American Heart Association website for a fee. The return demonstration check off can be completed at UMCNO without a charge for employees.

BLS re-certification in two steps:

1. At any location with Internet access and on your own schedule, successfully complete the Part 1 cognitive portion, including patient scenarios and multiple choice exam.
2. At the UMC, any scheduled time during business hours, successfully complete the Part 2 skills test administered by an American Heart Association certified Instructor.

Receive your new AHA BLS Provider card upon successful completion of Part 2.

BLS Manuals are available for review and checkout through the Clinical/Nursing Education Department. These are loaner manuals and need to be returned during the return demonstration check off.
